

How Economics Matter

Year V of revolutions in an economic and social prism

12 October 2016

Auditorium, bât. Issam Farès, AUB (facing Green Oval)

09:30-10:30 Introductory session

- François Burgat, IREMAM (Aix-en-Provence), Program Director ERC WAWAW : « what share to be given to economics ?»
- Eberhard Kienle, Ifpo Director (Beirut) : « Matters of Political Economy »
- Sari Hanafi, AUB-WAWAW (Beirut) : « How economics matter : a Socio-bibliometric Study »
- Amin Allal, CERAPS-WAWAW (Lille), Myriam Catusse, Ifpo-WAWAW (Beirut): « How Economics matter : l'an V des révolutions au prisme de l'économique et du social »

11:00-13:30 Panel 1

New forms of accumulation, new political resources? Tycoons, refugees and combatants in the economy of revolutions.

Dilek Yankaya CERI-WAWAW Paris	Panel presentation and discussion
Chiara Loschi University of Turin	Economic Actors in Post-Revolutionary Tunisia. Waste Collection Companies and new Strategies between Local and National Political Arena
Raphaëlle Chevrillon-Guibert IRD/UMR 8586 Paris.	Sensitive negotiations about gold in Sudan: How to reconfigure power and stakeholders' strategies in the new mining economy?
Marc Valeri , University of Exeter	Business and Ruling Families in the GCC. A Re-Definition of the Oligarchic Pact

14:30-17:30

Panel 2: Islam, capitalism and alter-globalization: new interpretations?

Nicolas Dot Pouillard et Julien Pélissier Ifpo-WAFAW, Beirut/ IREMAM-WAFAW, Aix-en-Provence	Panel presentation and discussion
Justa Hopma Aberystwyth University, RU	The role of food insecurity in the production of (counter-) hegemony: A Gramscian reading of the potential for food system transformation in the Arab region
Aziz Chahir IRFC, Rabat	Reformist Islamists of PJD in Morocco to the test of secularization: The interest-based loan (riba) between religious prescriptions and the constraints of capitalist economics
Ester Sigillo and Damiano De Facci Paris Diderot / ENS	Community action focused on development in Tunisia: alternative economic models. The cases of Kasserine and Medenine
Stéphanie Latte CNRS-WAFAW	Towards a different economy in Palestine? Civic and political alternatives, sovereignty and resistance to the occupation
Frédéric Coste CERI Science po associate	The financing of the IDB and Islamic banks during the Arab Spring: a case of possible influence?

13 October 2016

Auditorium, bât. Issam Farès, AUB (facing Green Oval)

10:00-13:30

Panel 3: Transformations in the working world, job insecurity and productivity: an observation point for new resistance and protest?

Amin Allal	Panel presentation
Claudie Fioroni IHEID, Geneva	Discussion
Francesco De Lellis « L'Orientale » University of Naples	Poor farmers' resistance in Egypt: issues of contention, strategies, organization and alliances
Abir Kréfa and Sarah Barrières Centre M. Halbwachs, Paris	Can mobilization be replicated? An analysis of a social movement « for the right to work » in the Kasserine Governate (Tunisia)
Gaia Gondino University of Turin	The labor link between workforce availability and access to opportunity. The trajectories and social roles of workers in the garment industry in the Tunisian Sahel.
Laurence Louer Science Po/CERI, Paris	Governing social conflict in the Gulf Monarchies
Alia Gana IRMC, Tunis Director of the project ERC The Assorted Yields of the Arab Spring	Protests and social mobilization in agricultural and rural areas during an era of political change in Tunisia

14:30-17:30

Panel 4: The economics of voting? Exchanges and politicization

Marie Vannetzel CNRS/CURAPP, Amiens	Panel presentation
Mounia Bennani Chraïbi UNIL Lausanne	Discussion
David Goeury ENEEC/CJB Rabat	Elected president of a Moroccan municipality: money, notability and engagement. The case of a rural municipality during the elections of September 2015.
Dimitri Deschamps CETOBAC/Ifpo Erbil	Beyond simple vote buying: when the moral economy interferes with client relationships in Iraqi Kurdistan
Mohamed Fahmy AUC Cairo	Cairo's New Old Faces: Redrawing the map of Patron-Client Networks post Jan 25

13 October 2016

10:00-18:00 Islamic reform from within: new configurations

Simultaneous round table discussion directed by S. Hanafi (AUB, Beirut) and S. Lacroix (CERI Science po, Paris)

See attached program. College Hall, AUB

18:00 - 19:30

Lecture by Ridwan Al-Sayyed

Scholar of Islamic Studies, Professor at the Lebanese University

التجديد من الداخل: جهود الاجتهاد والتغيير

Conference dinner: to be announced

14 October 2016

Auditorium, bât. Issam Farès, AUB (facing Green Oval)

10:00-13:30

Panel 5: Welfare State/Warfare State: questions concerning the (re)allocation of resources?

Laura Ruiz de Elvira IREMAM-WAFAW, Aix-en-Provence	Panel presentation
Jihad Yazighi The Syria Report website Beirut	Discussion
Taher El Labadi Paris Dauphine University	The economic practices of political rupture: the political economy of an incomplete autonomy in Gaza
Leila Vignal Oxford University	Reshaping of the wartime Syrian economy: regime, actors, territories
Jamil Mouawad ACSS/Ifpo, Beirut	Lebanon's Wadi Khaled: More Stately than the State
Thierry Boissière Ifpo, Beirut	The economies of exile and survival: the practices and strategies of Syrian refugees in an eastern Beirut neighborhood
Nasser Rabie and Zaki Mehchy Syrian Center for Policy research, Beirut	Emerging conflict economy during the Syrian crisis

14:30-17:30

Panel 6: Demands in unequal relationships: clientelism as a promoter of inhibition or instigator of protest?

Myriam Catusse Ifpo-WAFAW, Beirut	Panel presentation and discussion
Diana Zeidan IRIS/EHESS, Paris	Local implantation and client relations: the case of « experts » in the development of Hezbollah in southern Lebanon.
Michele Scala AMU/IREMAM, Aix-en-Provence	Debt guardianship: a study on the mobilization of l'Électricité du Liban day laborers (2012-2016).
Amin Allal and Aymen Belhaj, CERAPS-WAFAW/IRMC-PRODIG Lille and Tunis	Profiting from clientelism, denouncing corruption: a false paradox?

18:00-18:30: A. Allal and M. Catusse, Conclusion of the conference